In the Classroom: This week the older students completed and began presenting their very informative reports and PowerPoint presentations about an African country. The younger students began a study on African animals. The children also finished their incredible African-style masks. In Science the older students are finalising their designs for our updated chicken house while the younger class learned ways to categorise dinosaurs.

School Photos: This week we were visited by the school photographers. Thanks everyone who has already put in their orders for their photos. There is still time to order them online at www.theschoolphotographer.com.au, using the online code: X6175VT41U

Kinder Orientation: We had another fun day with our three new kindies, who are very excited about big school next year. Next Thursday the kindy-lindies will be here for the whole day for our final Kinder Orientation of the year. If you know of any families with children who will be starting primary school next year, please tell them about Upper Coopers Creek and invite them to get in touch.

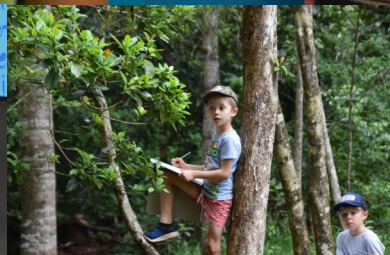

We pay our respects to the people of the Bundjalung nation upon whose country we learn and teach.

Swimming Lessons: After a few cancellations and postponements, we have had word that we will be allowed to take part in School Swimming Scheme swimming lessons. These will take place in Week 10.

Surfing: We also get to go surfing! Hooray! This will happen in the final week of school, Week 11.

Lynn: This week we welcomed Lynn into the classroom at Upper Coopers. Lynn is a pre-service teacher who is completing her teaching prac at UCC and will work with our students for the next four weeks.
