

Upper Coopers Creek Newsletter Public School

Term 3 Week 10

Wednesday 25 September 2024

Dear Families and Friends,

We have been very busy this week immersing ourselves in cultural performances, filming, editing and of course getting ready for tomorrow night! Enjoy the break and we will see you next term!

James and the Giant Peach: We had a fantastic time up at HOTA on Friday. The children were intrigued by the 'futuristic sky scrapers' as we came into Broadbeach and Surfers Paradise. We enjoyed lunch on the river watching ferries and a family of swans go by. Our seats for Roald Dahl's "James and the Giant Peach" were superb, as we were only 6 rows back from the front. The actors were fantastic, and each character oozed charisma. The set was exceptional and used a combination of digital projection and rotating stages to set the scenes as the tale progressed. A huge shout out to Kate for driving us all safely there and back!

Music Concert and Art Show: Tomorrow 5pm! This week we have been busy transforming our school into a gallery and concert hall! The children have been cooking delicious treats to accompany our supper and are all excited to perform and share their artworks. Please ensure the children arrive by 4.50 and are wearing blacks.

We pay our respects to the people of the Bundjalung Nation upon whose country we learn and teach.

FilmBy: Monday was a busy day with filming for this year's FilmBy entry. The children worked with Rod Evans to learn filming techniques and editing processes. There will even be a couple of green screen animated sections going into this year's film. Rod will return Monday 28 October to complete the project.

Share our Space: Our school has been removed from this list, which means that the school grounds are not to be used outside of school hours and anyone on the school grounds is seen as trespassing. We are currently looking into reviewing this situation, however for the up-and-coming holidays the school grounds will be closed to public use.

Camp: Week 2 (21 – 23 Oct) we are going on camp! A permission note will be sent through School Bytes this week and all information regarding the camp will also be sent home! We are excited to head up the coast and have a city adventure.
